November, guest speaker Janet
Jones (School Nurse)

Hello! I'm Mrs Pounder and I'm one of the Maths Leads at Brookfield.

Here at school we recognise the importance of mathematics for children both in school and in their future lives. Maths enables children to understand relationships and patterns in the world around them. It is essential to everyday life, necessary for financial literacy and needed in most forms of employment.

We intend to give each child the self-confidence and resilience to reach their full potential in Mathematics by ensuring that they have the tools to calculate fluently, reason logically, problem solve and think in abstract ways.

Most of all we want our children to enjoy their learning in Maths and develop confidence in their own abilities.

With this confidence, they can apply what they know to reason and explain their thinking and to solve problems, develop mastery and access higher levels of understanding.

Using our carefully sequenced delivery of the Maths curriculum, and daily Maths lessons we ensure our children are ready to progress to the next stage of their learning, believing in their own ability to be successful mathematicians.

If you have any questions about our Maths curriculum or how to support your child in this are please get in touch or alternatively look on our school website 😊
